

What is a restraining order?

It is a court order.

What does the order do?

It can order you to:

- Not contact or go near the protected person
- Not have a gun while the order is in effect
- Move out of the house
- Follow child custody and visitation orders
- Pay child support and
- Pay spousal support

Read the order carefully. If you disobey the order, you can go to jail or be fined.

What if I have a gun?

You cannot own, possess, or have a gun or firearm while the order is in effect. If you have a gun now, you must sell it to a licensed gun dealer or turn it in to police. Read Form DV-810-INFO.

Should I go to the hearing?

Yes. Go to court on the hearing date listed on page 1 of Form DV-110. If you do not go to court, the judge can make the orders without hearing from you.

How do I tell my side of the story?

File Form DV-120 before the hearing date. Also, have someone mail it to the person who asked for the order or to the person's lawyer. This is "Service." The person who mails it must fill out and sign a Proof of Service by Mail (Form DV-250). File the Proof of Service with the court clerk. Keep a copy.

Do I have to get a lawyer?

No. But it is a good idea, especially if you have children. Ask the clerk how to find free or low-cost legal services.

What if I also have criminal charges against me?

See a lawyer. Anything you say or write can be used against you in your criminal case.

What if I am a victim of domestic violence?

Call the National Domestic Violence Hotline:

1-800-799-7233

TDD: 1-800-787-3224

Ask who can help you file a restraining order.

Can I bring a witness to the court hearing?

You can bring witnesses or documents that support your case, but the judge may not have enough time to talk to the witnesses. So bring their written statements of what they saw or heard. You must file and mail witness statements at least 10 days before the hearing or when you mail your Answer (Form DV-120) to the protected person.

Will I see the protected person at the court hearing?

If the protected person comes to the hearing, you will see him or her. Do not talk to the protected person unless the judge says you can.

How long does the order last?

The first (temporary) order lasts until your next court date. At that time, the judge will decide to grant or deny a longer-term order. That order can last for up to 5 years. Spousal support orders can last longer than 5 years. Custody, visitation, and child support orders can last until the child turns 18.

What if the protected person contacts me?

No matter what, you have to follow the court order. The order does not affect the protected person. It only affects what you can do. Tell the protected person you cannot have contact.

Can I agree with the protected person to cancel the order?

No. Only the judge can change or cancel the order.

What happens if I don't obey the court order?

The police can arrest you. You can go to jail and pay a fine.

What if I don't have a green card?

The order is valid whether you have a green card or not. If you are worried about being deported, talk to an immigration lawyer.

What if I don't speak English?

Ask someone who speaks English to call the court clerk before your hearing and ask for a court interpreter. If the interpreter is not available, bring someone to interpret for you. Do not ask a child, a witness, or a protected person to interpret for you.

What if I am deaf or hard of hearing?*Requests for Accommodations

Assistive listening systems, computer-assisted real-time captioning, or sign language interpreter services are available if you ask at least five days before the proceeding. Contact the clerk's office or go to www.courtinfo.ca.gov/forms for Request for Accommodations by Persons With Disabilities and Order (Form MC-410). (Civil Code, § 54.8.)
